How To Reduce Pain Without Surgery

Common practice is to take it easy when you experience pain from an injury affecting muscles, joints, tendons, and ligaments. But inactivity for more than a day or two could actually slow healing in many cases. When done in a controlled, gradual, and progressive way, the exercises listed below can help distribute nutrients into the injured area to avoid stiffness and pain.

- ◆ A pain in the neck has earned its reputation as being excruciating. Hours of sitting at a computer can increase chances of this problem.
→ Exercise: Stand up straight and roll your shoulders in circles slowly. First roll forward 5 times, and then roll back 5 times to balance.
- ◆ Carpal tunnel syndrome is another common source of pain. Repetitive hand motions while working can trigger pain, especially if you write or type for many hours each day.
→ Exercise: Wrist twists can open the wrist and decrease pain. Put your knees on the floor, and then place your hands flat on the floor in front of each knee. Gently turn your hands so each middle finger will face toward a knee and your thumbs are now on the outside. Relax and hold this position for five slow, deep breaths.
- ◆ Back pain is a frequent complaint first thing in the morning. You can increase mobility and decrease pain with light stretching.
→ Exercise: Get on the floor and lie on your back. Pull both knees to the chest while also flexing your head forward. Hold the comfortable stretch of this balled-up position about 20 seconds and release.
- ◆ Knees are the most common painful area of the body. It is not surprising because the pressure across your knee joint is four times the weight of your body. Like a rusty door hinge, your knee may just need a little maintenance.
→ Exercise: Sit in a chair and loop a long towel under your left or right foot. Gently pull the towel to bend the knee up 5 inches. Hold for 5 seconds and release. Repeat 5 times for each leg.

Check with your doctor before starting any exercise program. If these exercises help you, make a long-term commitment to avoid future pain and potential surgery.

3 Hot Tips To Fly For Less

Higher fuel prices have pushed airline fares to new heights. There are still ways to save money on flights, but you have to know how to look for the bargains. Use these helpful tips to shave hundreds off the cost of flying:

- Book your flight early but not too early: You probably know the cheapest fares are well before your departure date. Most airlines release schedules 6 months in advance, but don't book until 3 to 4 months out when airlines start actively managing prices. Also, try booking your flight on a Tuesday afternoon because that's when most airlines will match special offers to stay competitive.
- Sign up for airfare alerts: There are dozens of websites that email updates but start with these top-rated free services: www.airfarewatchdog.com or www.farecompare.com.
- Combine one-way fares: To save money you can sometimes take two one-way fares with different airlines, instead of a round-trip flight. Or you can fly into a smaller airport and take a short flight to get to your final destination.

Protect Your Child From A Bully

Many well-meaning parents try to help only to have their strategies backfire on them and make bullying worse. For example, if you call the parents of a bully, your child will be mortified and the bullying is likely to continue. This runs the risk of your child not telling you when it happens the next time. The three best ways to protect your child if they are bullied:

- #1 – Educate your child about bullying and ask if a bully might think they are being funny ó rather than intending to be aggressive.
- #2 – Recruit allies by identifying teachers or friends that can help when the child feels threatened.
- #3 – Reinforce your child's self-esteem at home with positive praise so they don't believe negative comments from others. This will decrease the odds of being bullied as the bully moves on to an easier target.

Computer Sharing Risks

Protect personal information when sharing a computer with coworkers or in public with these cautionary steps:

1. Never login to your online banking system with public internet connections such as terminals in airports and libraries.
2. If you have to check your email or other password-protected accounts, do not have the internet browser save your login details. If prompted, select "Don't save" or "No".
3. Erase internet history as you end any session online.
4. Disable the automated feature that fills in a form based on the first few letters you type, which should be under your internet browser settings.
5. Empty the recycle or trash bin on the desktop or email program before you leave.

Alcohol And Allergies

Beer, wine, and other liquor can cause an allergy-like reaction such as scratchy throat, sneezing, and runny nose. This is caused by the yeast formed during fermentation that contains histamine. Other yeast-containing foods that can cause the same reaction are bread, cider, pickles, and aged cheeses. Pay attention to the cumulative effect of yeast in your diet. Learn more at:

6 Quick Tips To Eliminate Clutter

A cluttered house can make you feel tired and confused. But if the task of organizing your entire house seems overwhelming, start with small, 10-minute or less mini-projects. Experts have found that you will be more motivated to complete small projects that have a rapid reward. Try these 6 mini-projects to clear your mind, make decisions more easily, and feel more energized:

Clear-Up Problem Areas:

- ✓ Clothes closet: If you have a limited closet space, consider getting hangers that hook to each other vertically instead of throwing clothes on the ground. You can also add hanging storage systems for items like sweaters, shoes, and other bulky things. See closet systems at: www.bedbathandbeyond.com
- ✓ Home office: Divide and conquer this task by first putting all papers in the trash or in stacks like these: call, pay, return, order, brainstorm, talk to family, etc. Set up an action system with colored folders for each stack. Tackle each folder when you can find 10 minutes to spare. You'll find folder systems at: www.officedepot.com
- ✓ Under the sink: Order stacking drawers in plastic or metal wire. When you measure, be sure to allow space for the drain pipe. Find these drawer systems at: www.containerstore.com

Put Away Problem Items:

- ✓ Junk: Organize your junk by using rubber bands to separate items by type. You can still have a junk drawer but use a rubberized drawer liner from www.duckbrand.com to keep things from shifting.
- ✓ Seasonal: Store things you won't use until the next season under the bed. To save space, try using vacuum-sealed packs from www.spacebag.com.
- ✓ Antiques: You may have things that you don't really love, but you inherited and think they will have a high value someday. Find out what it is worth with www.appraisers.org, or for a quick reality check, search www.ebay.com.

"Who Else Wants To Win

Movie Tickets For Two at Cinemagic in Hooksett, NH?"

Guess who won last month's Trivia Question? I'm pleased to announce the three lucky winners of last month's quiz. And the winners are drum roll please: Dana Jendraszek of Goffstown, Lorna Aouad of Manchester and Debra Connolly of Hooksett were the first three people to correctly answer my quiz question.

What did the creator of Scrabble, Alfred Mosher Butts, use as a reference to set the distribution of letters for the game?

- a) Webster's Dictionary
- b) New York Times
- c) Encyclopedia Britannica
- d) Life Magazine

The answer is b) New York Times. Butts studied the front page of the New York Times to determine the relative frequency of letters in the original Scrabble game. He tweaked it by only including four vowels to make the game harder and limit plurals. So, let's move on to this month's trivia question.

What is the largest denomination note ever printed?

- a) $1,000
- b) $1,000,000
- c) $500,000
- d) $100,000

The first 3 people to call me or e-mail me with the correct answer will win!

Everybody could be a winner even if you think you're too late. Call me anyway and if the prizes are already gone then I'll register your name for a chance to win a $50 Dinner gift card raffle being drawn on June 30, 2012. It's that EASY. CALL NOW!

Real Estate Corner...

Q. Why do some homes sell in days when others take months or don't sell at all?

A. When sellers or their real estate agent overlook any of the important ingredients of a successful sale, a home can linger on the market. Here are three reasons why a home doesn't sell quickly:

- 1. Asking price is too high. When a home first comes on the market, the list price must be at or near the market value so buyers see it as a good value and put in an offer. If you would like to know your home's current value, I will gladly conduct a Maximum Home Value Audit. I conduct this in-depth analysis for no charge to identify your home's highest possible value.
- 2. Poor marketing plan. Most real estate agents will do nothing more than put the house in the MLS. When I am hired to sell a home, I use a 28 Step Home Marketing Plan to reach more potential buyers in the first few weeks after a home is listed for sale.
- 3. Home is not staged properly. A buyer wants to buy a home they can imagine living in with their family. If the house is not staged or it's done incorrectly, buyers may lose interest and move on to other homes. Get the facts on how to stage your property properly by requesting my Free Consumer Guide "4-Steps To Stage Your Home For A Fast Sale."
